

Students to get experience of AI courtroom! UPES Dehradun to launch AIVR simulation lab for students

In an interaction with ET Now Digital, Abhishek Sinha, Dean, UPES School of Law said, "the lab will provide law students an experience of AI-based courtroom proceedings. So, law students will contest a hypothetical case, and they will be corrected through ChatGPT during the AI-based court proceedings. This experience will help the students to fit in the real world."

New Delhi: UPES Dehradun will launch an Artificial Intelligence & Virtual Reality (AIVR) simulation lab for students where they can experience the AI-based virtual courtroom proceedings. In an interaction with ET Now Digital, Abhishek Sinha, Dean, UPES School of Law said, "the lab will provide law students an experience of AI-based courtroom proceedings. So, law students will contest a hypothetical case, and they will be corrected through ChatGPT during the AI-based court proceedings. This experience will help the students to fit in the real world."

UPES Dehradun today signed a memorandum of understanding with the University of Law (ULaw) to launch a Centre of Excellence (CoE) at UPES. The Centre of Excellence (CoE) will facilitate Continuing Professional Development (CPD) courses, satellite centers, and a start-up incubator to nurture innovation and entrepreneurship among students and faculty. The partnership includes faculty exchange, fostering an enriching exchange of knowledge and teaching practices. The collaboration will create a platform for students to develop market-ready skills.

Talking about the Centre of Excellence (CoE), Abhishek said that the UPES students will get the opportunity to experience the international academic exposure, the students will visit the ULaw campus and the ULaw professors will visit the UPES campus to take classes and to conduct workshops.

The upcoming CoE will also benefit the practicing lawyers as they can take the Continuing Professional Development (CPD) courses to skill themselves. "CPD courses are quite common abroad, but it's not that common in our country. The CPD courses will be designed in a way that the practicing lawyers can skill themselves in every aspect of the legal education system globally- whether it can be use of AI tools in legal proceedings, or other aspects," he said.

UPES School of Law offers various law courses- BA LLB (Hons), BBA LLB (Hons) and LLB programmes. To make students well-equipped professionally, internships are mandatory for every course. "Our courses give as much stress to practical exposure as the theoretical approach. Apart from the professional internship programme, we have Srijan- a social internship programme, where students get exposure to deal with social problems working with NGOs," said Abhishek.

Speaking on the collaboration, Prof. Peter Crisp, Deputy Vice-Chancellor of ULaw, said, "this collaboration reflects our shared commitment to nurturing career-ready legal professionals equipped to succeed in an increasingly complex and tech-driven world. Together, we aim to foster innovation in legal education, particularly in emerging areas such as AI, and set new standards in training and research."
